GROUCHO

(for more info visit www.baylinartists.com)

Auburn Public Theater is an intimate, public theater space in downtown Auburn which fosters creative growth in the community. We present and produce plays, as well as challenge, educate and entertain children, young people and adults. This intimate performance space is home to actors, musicians, comedians, poets, dancers and artists alike. This new home also offers audience members a place where they can joyfully experience the world around them as well as safely experience the world within. (Questions?
